FLORIDA MAN RETURNS FROM CITY OF MEXICO.

KEY WEST, Feb. 19—Ed. Goehring, who has been employed for many months in Mexico City as an engineer, is in the city for a few days visiting with his family. Mr. Goehring states that Mexico is a hotbed of revolution, and that conditions in Mexico City have been unsettled for so long a time that business is practically at a standstill there. He says that President Madero is a highly intelligent man, and a just man, but he lacks the stern qualities, which made the success of Porfirio Diaz possible, and the end of his administration seems imminent.

Mr. Goehring states that there are 4,000 Americans in Mexico City, with a full equipment of rifles and ammunition in the American embassy to protect themselves in case of emergency. He says arrangements have been made in case of trouble or intervention by the United States government, that all Americans will at once proceed to the American embassy to protect themselves. An ample supply of rations is kept on hand, enough to last 30 days, or until the United States troops could reach them.

To Burn Paper.

There are times when there are bundles of old papers to be burned. This is dangerous in a grate fire. The following is the method which will avert danger of the chimney catching fire: Make tight rolls of all the papers and fasten them with pieces of soft wire—Bressnick wire will do. They will then form a kind of a log and burn slowly without a flame. The rolls may be made of any size and several of them burnt together.

Musician and Wit.

M. Camille Saint-Saens, the great musician, and the lifelong friend of animals, took into his house a little dog. The enraged concierge waited his chance and notified the owner of the house. Soon a letter arrived for the musician which said, "Monsieur, my house is not a zoological garden." Saint-Saens sent back the answer, "Monsieur, if you wish your house to be a zoological garden you have only to live in it."

Woman's Age.

A few years ago after a woman had passed thirty-five she was relegated to the fireside and she looked and felt old. She lived in her memory, and all the money that was spent for little frills and follies was given to her daughter; for mother, all was over. Suddenly woman awakened to the fact that after thirty-five she is at her best, and that her beauty need not fade unless she wishes it.—Home Life.

The Strong Point.

"I have found just the party for you, Lord Duncan—a lady with a dowry of half a million." "And when can I see this lady?" "Just keep thinking of the dowry—don't ask to see her."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Competence and the Morals.

There is no harm in having a competence, if it does not produce further degeneration of the morals.

Duty and Fame.

"Duty well done is noble; if properly advertised it is fame."—George Horace Lorimer.

The Paper Wedding.

The "paper wedding" marks the completion of the second year of married life, and is sometimes the first one celebrated, while the cotton anniversary seems to offer very few possibilities in the way of unique entertainment. For the paper wedding we can decorate our rooms and table with some of the beautiful paper flowers that are now being made most exquisitely after the natural flowers.—Harper's Bazar.

Much Easier to See.

How much more detestable a fault appears when we can trace it to some one whose position in life we envy.—Puck.

Be Ready for Opportunity.

"There is scope for chance everywhere; let your hook be always hanging ready. In the eddies where you least expect it, there will be a fish."—Ovid.

Cleaning Glass Vases.

Flower vases which have become cloudy and discolored should be cleaned with a mixture of vinegar and salt, poured in and well shaken about. A long piece of stiff wire, upon the end of which is a little pad of soft rag, should be poked into all the corners and crevices, and the vase then rinsed in warm water and dried with a good polishing cloth. Fly marks upon the gilt frames of pictures should be rubbed with half a lemon and then polished with a chamois leather.

THE DAILY NEWS--15 Cents a Week

Woman's Age.

A few years ago after a woman had passed thirty-five she was relegated to the fireside and she looked and felt old. She lived in her memory, and all the money that was spent for little frills and follies was given to her daughter; for mother, all was over. Suddenly woman awakened to the fact that after thirty-five she is at her best, and that her beauty need not fade unless she wishes it.—Home Life.

The Strong Point.

"I have found just the party for you, Lord Duncan—a lady with a dowry of half a million." "And when can I see this lady?" "Just keep thinking of the dowry—don't ask to see her."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Competence and the Morals.

There is no harm in having a competence, if it does not produce fatty degeneration of the morals.

Duty and Fame.

"Duty well done is noble; if properly advertised it is fame."—George Horace Lorimer.

The Paper Wedding.

The "paper wedding" marks the completion of the second year of married life, and is sometimes the first one celebrated, since the cotton anniversary seems to offer very few possibilities in the way of unique entertainment. For the paper wedding we can decorate our rooms and table with some of the beautiful paper flowers that are now being modeled most exquisitely after the natural flowers.—Harper's Bazar.

Much Easier to See.

ow much more detestable a fault appears when we can trace it to some one whose position in life we envy—Puck.

Be Ready for Opportunity.

"There is scope for chance everywhere; let your hook be always hanging ready. In the eddies where you least expect it, there will be a fish."—Ovid.

They Generally Succeed.

People who expect to have their feelings hurt are seldom disappointed.

Illustrated by Cartoonist.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Thursday, February 20, 1913

The Rowand lectures are unique, new, entertaining, profitable.

These lectures are NOT chalk talks, but the reverse—the work of the cartoonist is to continuously follow the lecturer, and illustrate the lecture.

In the Cartoonist's illustrations in these lectures there is a continual shifting from the sublime to the ridiculous, from the grave to the gay, her pictures revealing to the eye those things which cannot be told in words. There is but one woman cartoonist in the lyceum, that is Pearl Rowand.

Possibly Knew What He Meant.

In an address of welcome to a resident magistrate at Cala, Transkei, South Africa, the Kaffir spokesman, the other day thus expressed himself: "We cordially welcome your pluck and goodness in coming among such pusillaminary and unwholesomely ignorant people. We are overjoyful to get such a weak, non-excitable, superabundantly harmonious one as a magistrate."

Today the Appointed Time.

"The future is an illusion; it never arrives; it flies before you as you advance. Always it is today—and after death and a thousand years it is today. You have great deeds to perform and you must do them now."—Charles Ferguson.

Their Likeness.

While Pat worked, Mike and Murphy painted a picture of a donkey's head on the back of his coat, thinking that they would have some fun out of him when he put on his coat to go home. Pat, as he reached for his coat, saw the painting and asked: "Which one of you fellows wiped your face on the back of my coat?"

Cleaning Glass Vases.

Flower vases which have become cloudy and discolored should be cleaned with a mixture of vinegar and salt, poured in and well shaken about. A long piece of stiff wire, upon the end of which is a little pad of soft rag, should be poked into all the corners and crevices, and the vase then rinsed in warm water and dried with a good polishing cloth. Fly marks upon the gilt frames of pictures should be rubbed with half a lemon and then polished with a chamois leather.

POINTS WORTH VISITING

OCEAN BEACH—excellent motoring north for 18 miles and south 18 miles to Mosquito Inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

REED, KNOX & REED ORANGE GROVE—12 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Reed, Knox & Reed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surface road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—3 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE — at Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

MAMMOTH TREE—4 miles from Daytona; an abnormally large tree, reached by motor over [illegible] surfaced road.

DELAND—22 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city, reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

Announcement!

There will be by March 1st graded and shelled over a mile of new streets, nearly a mile and a half of new cement walks and many other expensive improvements on my property, known as the Goodall estate, near end of new bridge, Daytona Beach.

This has all cost money. To help defray this expense I will, during the first week in March, sell at

from this property one new nine-room Bungalow on Goodall avenue. One eight-room two-story house on Vermont avenue. Also twenty choice residential lots located on the different streets.

This will be the last opportunity to buy lots in this ideal location during the season of 1913, as prior to this sale there will be none sold, and after the sale they will be withdrawn from the market until another season when the new bridge will be in operation and trolleys passing our door. Remember, the bridge brings this property practically onto Beach street.

Watch for bills and particulars next week.

STORY OF LIFE OF CHRIST WILL BE TOLD IN PICTURES

Turning from the field of romance and frivolity, the Kalem Moving Picture company has given in a new feature "From the Manger to the Cross," an entirely different phase of motion picture making which bids fair to become known as the greatest triumph of the art. This great picture will be shown in Daytona next Sunday and Monday at the Crystal photo play house and will no doubt meet with the same warm and appreciative attention that has been given it in every place where it has been shown.

To follow the picture from the beginning, "The Annunciation," to the end, "The Crucifixion," each needs only recall the early lessons of Sunday School. But to see the pictures makes these lessons of more importance, for here are the very scenes, the temples of Jerusalem, the pyramids of Egypt, [illegible]

[illegible] then by closely connected happenings follows in logical and natural sequence the whole history of the "Man of Sorrows." There is the same pathos and tragedy in the picture one finds in the study of the scriptural story, the same appeal to man's better self, the same beauty and holiness with which the story is told in the bible.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS FROM THE WEST HAVE DECLINED LATELY

EARLY HASTE TO GET OFF FRUIT OF UNKNOWN QUALITY HAS SUBSIDED WITH THE PAST TWO WEEKS.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19—The middle of February finds the citrus situation in California more quiet than at any time during the last 15 years. The unusual haste to get off oranges of unknown and doubtful character has subsided almost totally, in fact, and shippers with little reputation to maintain are now carefully nursing that remnant with zest. Returns recently arrived from eastern markets, together with quite pronounced hints from government officials located at various strategetic points, are responsible for a fall from 100 cars during the middle of January to some 30 or 40 a day at the present time. To the honor of both independent and exchange houses of good standing be it said that little has gone out from any such shippers under real brands or where the nature of the unfit fruit could be detected. During last week there were some 600 cars of poor oranges floating about at various points in the east, which are now being cleaned up and similar repetitions will not be made this season. The policy of the best houses from the beginning of the cold season has been to wait until a number of weeks had passed before even trying to grade the fruit and that this was a wise policy has now been admitted by all. There is good fruit in limited quantities to be had from California later on, in both oranges and lemons, and March and April will see considerable of it going out at good prices.

The estimate of 12,500 cars of fruit, both oranges and lemons, made by the exchange just after the freeze, for all fruit of a citrus nature to go out of California this year, is now revised to 5,000 cars, to include both oranges and lemons, to be shipped from February to the end of this season.

CHAUTAUQA NEXT SEASON IS ASSURED

SPLENDID ADDRESS BY BRYAN CLOSES COURSE LAST NIGHT

PLEDGES RECEIVED ARE SUFFICIENT TO INSURE LONGER COURSE OF ENTERTAINMENTS IN 1914.

The first Daytona chautauqua has come to a close and was such a decided success the people here are assured another, larger and better one will be given here next season.

The chautauqua course just closed has been given largely as an experiment, to see how the people here would appreciate and patronize such a series of entertainments and the response was more than expected. For the larger and better chautauqua course next season Commodore C. G. Burgoyne has pledged a guarantee of $500 and more than two thirds of the persons who held tickets for the course just over pledged support for the next one.

The lecture by Col. William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, which closed the course last night, was attended by the largest crowd ever packed inside of the New Daytona theater building and the lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by every one of the immense audience. While Mr. Bryan's lecture did not give him opportunity for the flights of oratory for which he is famed as a political speaker, it sustained his reputation with the people here as being the foremost orator of the country today.

The theme of the address was reforms which are being carried on in the world and the progress which is being made in education, morality and politics in all parts of the globe. He proved that the trend of all things is forward and that conditions in all countries are steadily improving.

A half hour prelude of music was given by the members of the Chicago ladies' orchestra, which furnished excellent music throughout the chautauqua course.

HASTENED TO MAKE HIS WILL

Dyspeptic Convinced That Mistake Could Mean Nothing Less Than Imminent Dissolution.

The dyspeptic who gives prayerful thought to every bite he eats glanced dubiously over the French dinner card on which a dozen items were marked with a cross in red ink. "To my untutored mind," said he, "those things look all right. Some other fellow with a stomach has been here ahead of me and has marked off a few things that a Christian can eat without inviting sudden death."

In his delight at finding the dinner problem solved the dyspeptic ordered six of the red-cross dishes. They were unpronounceable and unrecognizable, but they tasted good and he liked them. When the crumb of the last course had disappeared the dyspeptic said genially to the waiter: "Rum old chap that must have been who ate at this table ahead of me."

"Yes, sir," assented the waiter. "He was one of them diet cranks that drive restaurant people crazy by marking up the bill of fare with red danger signals before the dishes that nobody that ain't got a sound digestion can afford to trifle with."

"Good Lord!" moaned the dyspeptic.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

BE SIMPLE AND SINCERE.

There is a tendency in this age to get away from pretense, hypocrisy, insincerity and pose.

The tendency is from the artificial back to the natural.

In speech and writing it means to cut out the affectation—long, rhetoric and mere farts.

Don't talk for effect. Talk because you have something to say.

Be what you are. Say what you mean, not in a way to wound and offend others, but frankly and honestly.

Live within your means. To live beyond them deceives nobody for long and in the end spells disaster for yourself. Water seeks its level.

Don't pretend to know what you do not know. Don't dogmatize. Dogmatism is usually the best mark of ignorance.

Be simple. It was Tennyson who said of the Duke of Wellington:

And as the greatest only are
In his simplicity sublime.

Abraham Lincoln schooled himself in youth to speak simply, to express every thought in common words and so bound and define it that a child could understand.

The result was the immortal Gettysburg oration.

We are discarding the frock coat and with it frock coated language and frock coated manners and methods.

We are getting rid of shams.

We are coming to know more and to pretend less.

Don't pose. Leave that to the dry goods store dummies.

Make believes don't go very far with real people, and the world is getting fuller every day of real people.

Advertisers are coming to recognize the wisdom of representing their goods exactly as they are. In the long run it is the only policy that pays.

It pays just as well with other people as with merchants.

The man who is worth while within himself has no need of seeming. There are plenty who know the real from the counterfeit, whether the counterfeit be coin or people.

If you are real gold have no fear that you will not be discovered. Only fear the acid test when the discovery is made.

Be honest, simple and sincere. Be yourself.

THE POWER OF SUGGESTION.

Isaac Newton once said, in substance, that we with all our science had but picked up a few pebbles from the shore of the great ocean of Truth.

If that is true of the outward world it is still more true of the inward. We know more of the physical universe than we know of ourselves.

By the law of balance the inner, subjective world is as great as the outer, objective world.

Both are infinite.

Just now we seem to be on the edge of an enchanting new science, the knowledge of ourselves.

We know so little of this as yet that it does not pay to dogmatize.

The proper attitude is to throw away all preconceived notions and to approach this study with minds eager only for the truth.

It has already been proved beyond question that both mind and body can be influenced by suggestion, whether the suggestion comes from ourselves or from another.

It has also been proved, not only by faith healing cults, but by scientists, that many diseases can be cured by the same process.

The theory is that the suggestion works on the subconscious mind. What the subconscious mind is nobody knows. It is simply a name to describe a mysterious power within us not yet understood—an intelligence that sleeps not, that guides our bodily functions, that preserves us in times of sudden peril, that seemingly senses things unknown to the outer mind, that shapes us unconsciously, that builds us and heals us.

All these are but guesses. We know so little of this mind within the mind that we can do little more than guess.

Yet we do know by experiment that there are certain things this inner mind will do.

Here is a simple, primary method to test the thing for yourself. If you have some problem to work out, some mental task to do, put it up to this subconscious mind before you go to sleep. If you are nervous or ill, suggest health. Only do it with full faith or your doubt will prove a countersuggestion.

It is worth the experiment.

Try it.

LEARNING ENDURANCE.

Max Nordau says that society—by which he means the smart set—is changing its winter habits, likewise its winter habitat. In the old days it went south. Now it goes north.

There is more in the change than one of direction. It is all the difference between soft self indulgence and hard endurance.

People with money are learning what people without money knew long ago—that not only strength and virtue, but grace and beauty, are found in the process of overcoming hard conditions.

Now the smart set members of many countries are going in for the roughest winter sports, skis, skates, bobsleds, jumping poles and all the rest.

As a result M. Nordau asserts that the women are becoming more willowy.

GOOD ROADS BOOSTERS TO HAVE PICNIC

OUTING AT MOUND GROVE IS PLANNED FOR NEXT SATURDAY

MEMBERS OF JOHN ANDERSON HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION AND ALL OTHERS MAY INSPECT THE WORK BEING DONE.

Plans are being made by the John Anderson highway association for a picnic outing at Mound Grove, the Reed, Knox & Reed orange grove in the north end of the county, next Saturday, and not only members of the association, but all persons interested in good roads are cordially invited to attend the day's outing and have a good time.

One of the reasons for this outing is to give the interested ones an opportunity to inspect the work which has been done on the John Anderson highway between this city and Mound Grove and even over the line into St. Johns county. County Road Supervisor Bradshaw still has the county prisoners employed on the highway between Ormond and No. 9 and persons who have not been over this road recently do not realize the big improvement which has been made within the past two months.

Good speakers will be present to address the gathering at Mound Grove and among them will be County Commissioner William Jackson and Supervisor Bradshaw, who will tell about the road improvements now being made on the John Anderson highway, as well as other roads in the county.

The members of the executive committee of the association will start from Wilmans opera house in Seabreeze at 10 o'clock in the forenoon next Saturday and all automobile owners who can conveniently join the committee are requested to do so at that time. Others may follow at their leisure. Excursion boats will leave for Mound Grove on their usual schedule on that day and will touch at several landing places to take on passengers from Daytona Beach, Seabreeze and Ormond.

Everybody is invited to bring lunch and have a good time for the day.

The John Anderson Highway association was formed for the purpose of stimulating the building and maintenance of good roads, primarily on the Halifax peninsula, and in a larger way assist the formation of similar associations throughout Volusia county. The association invited contributions toward a road fund to assist the county commissioners in the grading and hard surfacing of the river road on the east side of the Halifax between Seabreeze and the northern boundary of Volusia county, where the road joins the St. Johns county road.

The total contributions have amounted to $1,339, and the disbursements to $1,238.20, leaving a balance on hand of $100.80.

PEOPLE NOW AWAITING ARRIVAL OF GILMORE.

The offering at the New Daytona theater next Friday night, Paul Gilmore, in H. S. Sheldon's drama "The Havoc," should prove something of a welcome change to theater goers. Mr. Gilmore is one of the few persons on the stage of whom one can safely phophesy, a powerful and successful interpretation of whatever part he takes in hand.

In his capacity as manager, moreover he never fails to satisfy with a careful and intelligent production. Much has been said of Mr. Sheldon's play, "The Havoc." The young author of "The Nigger," "Salvation Nell, "The Boss," etc., has some excellent work to his credit already, and critics who have seen the present play seem generally to consider that it ranks with the best of his other dramas. The story is built around the character of Richard Craig, a brilliant American railroad man. Craig has been wronged by a treacherous friend, a guest in his house. He revenges himself in a cold scheme which finally crushes his enemy once and for all. It is said that both in Mr. Gilmore's production of the piece and his own acting of Craig, he touches a height of realism which he has never before reached.

Signs of the Times.

"I see the young lady next door has a beau." "She assures me that it is purely a platonic affection." "In that case you had better look over something cheap in clocks, or something of that kind."

The Rowand Lectures

Illustrated by Cartoonist.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Thursday, February 20, 1913

The Rowand lectures are unique, new, entertaining, profitable.

These lectures are NOT chalk talks, but the reverse—the work of the cartoonist is to continuously follow the lecturer, and illustrate the lecture.

In the Cartoonist's illustrations in these lectures there is a continual shifting from the sublime to the rediculous, from the grave to the gay, her pictures revealing to the eye those things which cannot be told in words. There is but one woman cartoonist in the lyceum, that is Pearl Rowand.

BROKERS FORM ASSOCIATION TO ELIMINATE SWINDLERS

NATIONAL ORGANIZATION TO BE FORMED AT MEETING OF BIG BROKERS IN NEW YORK CITY TONIGHT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 — An international association of brokers, banded together to protect the public and themselves against swindlers, will be launched here tonight at a banquet to be given in the Waldorf-Astoria.

The meeting is the culmination of a crusade against dishonest stock brokerage practices which has been conducted in all the large cities of the United States. It was originally started in the west, under the auspices of men prominent in the financial world, and rapidly spread until it included members of the best known brokerage firms in the United States. Some of the reforms aimed at by the association are as follows:

The elimination of fake brokers.

The protection of the public from swindlers by the dissemination of knowledge regarding legitimate brokerage firms.

The enactment of legislation looking toward the protection of both the brokers and the public.

The reform of stock exchange rules.

The establishment of a national bureau of investigation at Washington.

It is not intended to limit the membership of the organization to stock exchange firms. Brokers dealing in other commodities will be admitted under scrutiny of the board of organization.

Motorist's Luck.

"Well, Blithers, what luck did you have with your new car?" asked Jarroway. "More than I ever expected," said Blithers. "Just three minutes after the darned thing blew up another car came along with a busted tire, and the owner bought my old tires for ten dollars apiece."—Harper's Weekly.

Have No Country.

While at supper one evening a member of the family asked: "Say, what are the Blanks?" The discussion on nationality and religion following, was wound up by the youngest son inquiring earnestly: "Papa, what country do the bachelors come from?"

Announcement!

There will be by March 1st graded and shelled over a mile of new streets, nearly a mile and a half of new cement walks and many other expensive improvements on my property, known as the Goodall estate, near end of new bridge, Daytona Beach.

This has all cost money. To help defray this expense I will, during the first week in March, sell at

from this property one new nine-room Bungalow on Goodall avenue. One eight-room two-story house on Vermont avenue. Also twenty choice residential lots located on the different streets.

This will be the last opportunity to buy lots in this ideal location during the season of 1913, as prior to this sale there will be none sold, and after the sale they will be withdrawn from the market until another season when the new bridge will be in operation and trolleys passing our door. Remember, the bridge brings this property practically onto Beach street.

Watch for bills and particulars next week.

Turning from the field of romance and frivolity, the Kalem Moving Picture company has given in a new feature "From the Manger to the Cross," an entirely different phase of motion picture making which bids fair to become known as the greatest triumph of the art. This great picture will be shown in Daytona next Sunday and Monday at the Crystal photo play house and will no doubt meet with the same warm and appreciative attention that has been given it in every place where it has been shown.

To follow the picture from the beginning, "The Annunciation," to the end, "The Crucifixion," one needs only recall the early lessons of Sunday School. But to see the picture makes those lessons of more importance, for here are the very scenes, the temples of Jerusalem, the pyramids of Egypt, the sphinx, the hills of Bethlehem, the garden of Gathsemane, the mount of Olives, the sea of Galilee, and the barren hill on which the crucifixion took place. A more vivid representation of the scenes and events upon which the Christian religion is founded could not be given. A more faithful presentation of the subject is beyond the power of man.

The whole picture is in five reels, a total of 5,000 feet of film to be unwound. Each part is so arranged that it fits perfectly with its successor or preceding film. To make the picture many months time was required and the total cost to the producing company was $100,000, a new figure in the cost of picture making.

In striking fidelity to the scriptural story, the scenes presented by the film were laid on the ground where the events dealing with the birth, life and crucifixion of the Saviour really took place. It begins with the first message to Mary and then by closely connected happenings follows in logical and natural arrangement the whole history of the "Man of Sorrows." There is the same pathos and tragedy in the picture one finds in the study of the scriptural story, the same appeal to one's better self, the same beauty and holiness with which the story is told in the bible.

STATE IS FILLED WITH TOURISTS AT THIS TIME.

Senator-elect J. B. Conrad of Lake Helen, who is visiting his brothers here, has just returned from a trip to the southern part of the state and Cuba and says all the resorts are packed with tourists. Mr. Conrad says Miami is a miniature New York and that Havana is now filled with Americans. He was compelled to drive for more than an hour in Palm Beach Sunday night looking for a place to stay over night, and was finally compelled to stop at the home of a friend. All indications are Florida is experinecing the best tourist season in his history.

BRYAN MEETS FRIENDS AT THE COUNTY SEAT.

DELAND, Feb. 19 — William Jennings Bryan came here from Daytona today unannounced, but he was spotted driving down a street with Mr. Burgoyne of Daytona by a couple of Stetson girls. One of these girls shouted "Bryan," and the news of his arrival spread like wildfire. The commoner was greeted at the College Arms by a large number of his friends, who hurried to the hotel as soon as it was learned he was in the city.

LESS LOSS SHOWN IN SHIPMENTS

USE OF REFRIGERATION HAS IMPROVED THE CONDITIONS

RAILROADS ARE NOW FINDING DEMAND FOR ICED CARS MORE IN ONE DAY THAN IN A YEAR BEFORE.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 19—Probabl more than 3,000,000 boxes of citrus fruit remain in the state and much of it is being held for the late market. The California freeze has stiffened prices in many sections and fruit of the best quality and pack is now bringing fair prices.

A large percentage of the remainder of the crop will move under refrigeration, and the demand for iced cars has caused some shortage in a few remote sections, but as a rule the transportation companies are doing well in supplying cars on time. The railroads were not prepared at the start to rush refrigerator cars in such quantities at this season of the year, as the demand for iced cars in years past has been light, but when shippers found that this year's fruit which is overripe and tender could be shipped by refrigeration with a loss of only 10 or 15 per cent., instead of a loss of 25 to 50 per cent when shipped otherwise, they immediately got busy and the demand now for iced cars for fruit is more in one day than it was in one year during past seasons. Not only has the demand for cars been great but shippers at most every point have had to get ice from Jacksonville and Tampa. Ice has also been shipped into the state from Atlanta, Macon and from as far north as Chattanooga. This is the reason that in some few cases there has been a delay which was impossible to control, either by the transportation companies or the refrigerator car companies.

It is believed by prominent shippers that the movement will be gradual and that fruit will not be rushed to market in such quanitites as to make a glut, but shipments will be prolonged until well into July. There is no doubt that this will be the longest shipping season ever experienced by Florida growers.

W. C. Temple, manager of the exchange, believes that prices will be very satisfactory from now on until the close of the season. Mr. Temple says: "Over 1,225 cars of fruit left the state during the week ending February 8. Complete shipments from the state, ending February 8, have been about 5,000,000 boxes. There are probably 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 boxes yet to move, about one-fourth of this is grapefruit. We have still unshipped 300,000 boxes of grapefruit, 1,000,000 boxes of oranges and 15,000 boxes of tangerines. The exchange has shipped to February 8, 960,000 boxes of oranges, 185,000 boxes of grapefruit and 75,000 boxes of tangerines.. We will finish up the bulk of our shipments in April but will ship late Valencias until July. We have two-thirds of our holdings in Orange county, and 95 per cent of the crop now on the trees in Polk county to move. The exchange is stronger than ever and the market at the present time has a bright outlook."

R. B. Burton, sales manager, is very optimistic as to the showing the exchange will make for the balance of the season. Mr. Burton says: "We only moved 25 to 30 cars last week and our packing houses have been shut down or running on short time. We will open up gradually as fruit is demanded. Growers have learned that fruit can be iced and carried in good shape under unfavorable conditions, so there is no reason to rush out fruit. California has been moving 40 per cent of the fruit in January and now is about done. When we open up we shall move all fruit under refrigeration and look for a steady advance in prices until the close of the season. If you remember, last year in December, Florida fruit was punk. We had the decay early in the season last year and late this year and one reason fruit is going into market in such poor shape, is that it is dead ripe and should have most careful handling, which it does not always get.

The steamer Swan arrived from Jacksonville shortly after noon today with General Manager B. J. Ford on board. Mr. Ford will go south with the Swan, returning here Friday.

RETAIN THEIR RACIAL TYPE

Gipsies in Spain Are of That Country Only Because It Is Their Birthplace.

One of the things to attract the notice of every traveler that visits Spain is that strange race which he finds scattered here and there in small groups in the remote rural districts or near the great centers of population. It presents a type that can be mistaken for no other in the Spanish dominions.

The lips thick, the eyes large, black and piercing, the hair long, black and straight, the complexion olive tinted, the Spanish gipsy, whether encamped in a sheltering ravine or under the arches of an aqueduct or in the shadow of an overhanging cliff, is indeed Spanish because born in Spain, but in all else he is a gipsy.

Time was when Spaniards of the true blue blood called gipsies "New Castilians," or "Egyptians," or "Moorish footpads," but while their traits have undergone no change their name is now definitely gitanos, or gipsies.

Between fifty and sixty thousand is the number of them now in Spain, says America. Most of them have no fixed abode; but in some parts, and notably in Andalusia, there are several small settlements, for towns they can hardly be called, where these wanderers have taken possession of caves in the mountain side, whence they sally forth to tell fortunes and to filch. Wherever they are, they are inclined to be quarrelsome among themselves and to enforce their arguments by means of wicked looking knives, which they wield with great dexterity.

Too Much for Papa.

Young Popps—Dearest, what did your father say when you told him of our engagement?" "Daphne Sweet—"Darling, it was too funny! He gulped a few times, and then turned to the parrot. 'Polly,' said he appealingly, 'please help me out!'"—Judge.

Cultivating Friendship.

If a man does not make new acquaintance as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendship in constant repair.—Samuel Johnson.

Charm in Small Courtesies.

Small kindnesses, small courtesies, small considerations, habitually practiced in our social intercouse, give a greater charm to our character than the display of great talents and accomplishments.

In the International Family.

"You don't figure very strongly in diplomatic relations," said the great Nation. "No," replied the small, struggling government. "I'm one of the poor relations." — Washington Star.

Plants That Resemble Stones.

In South Africa there is found a plant of the genus Mesembryanthemum growing on stony ground, which so closely resembles a pebble that it is invariably taken by the stranger for a stone.

INTERESTING RIDES AND DRIVES
POINTS WORTH VISITING

OCEAN BEACH—excellent motoring north for 10 miles and south 15 miles to Mosquito inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surface road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE — a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

MAMMOTH TREE—4 miles from Daytona; an abnormally large tree; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

TOMOKA RIVER—The scenic stream of Florida; reached by excursion boats which leave Daytona daily and run to the navigable head of the stream, 26 miles from the city. Generally a number of alligators may be seen in their native haunts. This is a trip no tourist should miss.

DELEON SPRINGS, 28 miles from Daytona; mammoth spring that throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delightful bathing pool, and picturesque scenery. Spring is situated in an old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip for a picnic party.

OAK HILL—hamlet, 10 miles south of New Smyrna; several orange groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona; here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles south of Daytona; reached by boat; a mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Pottery and other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard-surfaced road; or the trip one way may be made by the road and crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the return can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—2 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are now in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Fair Florida Briefly Told

The wholesale grocers of Pensacola have formed a wholesale grocers' association.

News comes from Eau Gallie that the town is full to overflowing with tourists who are enjoying the fine fishing and boating.

Hon. W. N. Sheats, state superintendent of public instruction, has returned to Tallahassee, after attending a meeting of the general education board at Hampton, Va.

The board of trade of Key West has just started a whirlwind campaign for the adoption of a commission form of government for Key West. A special primary has been called, and the people will express themselves one way or another within 30 days.

The Lake Butler board of trade is still hotfoot after good roads in their district and has called a mass meeting of the citizens of the district to meet in Lake Butler on Washington's birthday, Saturday, February 22, in order to get representative expressions from the different sections of the district.

At a recent meeting of the Brooksville board of trade much enthusiasm was shown in regard to the $100,000 good roads bond issue for which an election was called by the county commissioners of that county. Brooksville has one of the finest boards of trade to be found anywhere in the entire state, always wide awake to the best interests of its citizens and the county as a whole.

St. Petersburg citizens were much elated when a telegram was received from Washington giving the news that the house committee on appropriations had reported favorably the bill containing an appropriation of $15,000 additional for a building at St. Petersburg. This amount is in addition to the $35,000 which was first appropriated, and is to give increased corridor space and more lock boxes in the office.

ANOTHER SIDE TO THE CASE

Just a Few Things Elderly Man Overlooked in His Indictment of Lazy Housewives.

Said the elderly man in the street car: "One thing that runs up the cost of living is the laziness of the average woman. She's too lazy to carry bundles home from the stores. Everything she buys, from a spool of thread up, she asks to have delivered, and the cost of the delivering adds 10 per cent to the cost of every article. Now, my wife is different from the common run. Every week day in the year she goes to the market with a big basket, does her own buying and carries the stuff home herself. That's more than your wife does, I'll bet."

Said the younger man:

"Does your wife do her own housework?"

"No, we keep a girl."

"Has your wife got a houseful of children to care for?"

"No, we only have a tomcat."

"Does your wife have to go to market in an overcrowded street car?"

"No, she has her limousine."

"My wife doesn't own a limousine, she has a houseful of children to care for, and she does her own work. Under the circumstances I don't see that my wife isn't just as much of a woman as yours, even if she doesn't get down town very often."

"You needn't get cross about it," retorted the elderly man.

"I'm not cross," said the younger man. "Only I don't like to hear women libeled."

Woodpecker's Hearing.

It is not easy to explain why woodpeckers attack one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest upon which to begin their operations, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

Sword Imbedded in Plank.

Embedded in the heart of a plank of wood taken from a railway station at Oakley, Fifeshire, says the London Standard, there has been found a sword measuring about two feet long. The plank had been in use for at least fifteen years.

Educational Systems.

"Look here," said the father, "every page of your book is covered with finger prints." "It's an accident," replied the young student. "Well, it is some relief to hear that. There have been so many changes in handwriting that I was afraid they had decided to make a clean sweep and substitute the Bertillon system."

Showing the Goods.

A novel mode of advertising for a wife has been adopted by an inhabitant of a provincial town in England. A photograph of the gentleman is placed in the window of a shopkeeper, and underneath is the following notice: "Wanted, a female companion to the above. Apply at this office."

Only True Nobility.

There is nothing noble in being superior to some other man. The true nobility is being superior to your previous self.—Hindoo Proverb.

As It Is in Life.

No one ever has the choice of the very best. Most things, humanly speaking, are simply the choice of one good thing and one not so good.

Why Some Are Silly.

It is only because they are strangers to the taste of what is excellent that the generality of people take delight in silly or insipid things.

Points for Mothers

Problems For Parents to Decide.

Few questions perplex the conscientious parent more than the one presented when a son or daughter reaches the marriageable age. In some instances, of course, there is no room for perplexity, because the choice suits all parties, but in the majority of cases the parents have much to think about. Probably the mother is more perturbed than the father, but all parents who have the welfare of their children at heart must feel some anxiety when they arrive at a marriageable age.

The first anxious feelings arise over the choice which the son or daughter may make. Then comes the selection, and the parents wonder whether the future partner is or will prove suitable in the best sense of the word.

Suppose that the child be a daughter. The future husband is subjected to the mental process often called "taking stock of him" and certain questions arise.

The parents, not blinded by love, as they are inclined to think their daughter is, are not altogether satisfied. Loving their daughter, they set up ideals, and this young man is not quite what they expected; they are not able to explain exactly why, but somehow he falls short. His income is smaller than they think it should be, or he is very fond of sports, and they fear he will neglect his wife in favor of athletic pastimes; he is, perhaps, clever, but (like so many clever persons) rather erratic, and that means coming home to dinner at any time and making his wife unhappy by a constant series of little vexations. They may object to his avocation, and they may also fancy that he is not really in love with the girl or that she herself is simply infatuated and will regret it quickly.

So they endeavor to exercise their right, as they say. The girl disputes their right, saying that she is the best judge; they cannot know as much about her sentiments as she does. It is she who has to take the consequences, good or bad; she believes that she will be happy with him and that she has the right to decide.

Who shall decide? Can the parents do more than endeavor to reason calmly with her, or have they any right to exert their influence or their autocratic power, if they possess any, to prevent the marriage? If we examine similar instances we shall find that the parents have been right at times and that they have spoiled the girl's life at others.

Surely the situation is disturbing enough to make both sides ponder gravely. "The trouble is that the girl is not old or experienced enough to be able to reflect properly," the parents would retort.

What is to be done? The best suggestion that can be made is that the young people should be asked to wait awhile before thinking of marriage or even of a fixed engagement. If that can be managed, and [illegible] let the girl see more of other men. If it is mere infatuation it will wear off.

The School Headache.

The brain is such a delicate organ, so easily hampered in development, that when headache, which is, in a sense, pain in the brain, is complained of it should receive immediate attention.

It may result from defective sight. It may be adenoids. In such a case the growths in the nose and throat prevent the child from breathing in a sufficient quantity of oxygen, and the brain is irritated by the defective quality of the blood. The adenoids should be removed at once. [illegible]

[illegible] meals should be light and easily digested. It may be necessary to put the child on a milk diet for a time, in which case a tumblerful of milk should be given at each meal, with such a simple dish as custard, well boiled eggs, a little fish with bare bread and butter, until the digestive system is restored to its normal working [illegible].

The teeth should not be overlooked in investigating the cause of ill health in the school child. Not only should they be carefully examined and attended to, but care should be taken that the child thoroughly chews every bite of food [illegible].

Exercise For Children.

Children should be encouraged to play games that exercise every muscle. They should have [illegible] swings, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] good ways of bringing children to exercise. There can be [illegible] weight lifting, [illegible] and punching bag.

Children can be formed into walking clubs, and [illegible] and [illegible] may be encouraged to do a certain amount of daily [illegible].

THRIFTY NAPOLEON.

He Made Sure of Being Served With Honesty and Economy.

Emperor Napoleon I., dressed in plain clothes, often visited the markets of Paris in order to learn the current prices of food and find out whether his household officers served him with honesty and economy. In "Foreign Reminiscences" Richard Lord Holland says that this was only one illustration of the emperor's thrift and shrewdness.

When the Tuileries was being repaired Napoleon suspected that the upholsterer's charges were higher than they should be. So he asked one of his ministers, who was with him, how much the ivory egg at the end of the bell rope ought to cost.

"I do not know," was the answer.

"It shall be ascertained," said Napoleon. Thereupon he cut off the ivory handle, called for a valet, bade him dress himself in plain clothes, inquire the price of such articles at several shops in Paris and offer a dozen as if for himself.

The valet bought them for two-thirds of the price that the emperor had had to pay. Napoleon, inferring that the same overcharge had been made in the other articles, deducted a third from the entire account and informed the tradesman that it was done at his own express command because on investigation he had found the charges to be exorbitant.

A DREAM AND A CRIME.

The Story of a Slumber Vision That Comes From Cicero.

Cicero furnishes us with a tale of two Arcadians, who, traveling together, arrived at Magara, a city of Greece, between Athens and Corinth, where one of them lodged in a friend's house and the other at an inn.

After supper the person who lodged at the private house went to bed and, falling asleep, dreamed that his friend at the inn appeared to him and begged his assistance, because the innkeeper was going to kill him.

The man immediately got out of bed, much frightened at the dream; but, recovering himself and falling asleep again, his friend appeared to him a second time and desired that, as he would not assist him in time, he would at least care not to let his death go unpunished—that the innkeeper, having murdered him, had thrown his body in a cart and covered it with rubbish. He therefore begged that he would be at the city gate in the morning before the cart was out.

Struck with this new dream, he went early to the gate, saw the cart and asked the driver what was in it. The driver immediately fled. The dead body was taken out of the cart and the innkeeper apprehended and executed.

No Secret Telegraph System.

Many persons are of the opinion that the wireless system of communication is particularly subject to tapping; but, according to the Scientific American, no telegraph system is absolutely secret. Any one familiar with the Morse code can read ordinary messages entering any telegraph office. At Poulsen on a telephone connected to a single horizontal wire, the message passing on a government telegraph line a quarter of a mile away can be distinctly read. It has been shown that it is possible to pick up at a distance, on another circuit, conversation which may be passing through a telephone or telegraph wire. On one occasion an investigator was able to interfere from a distance with the working of the ordinary telephones in Liverpool.

Why Rain Clouds Are Black.

The color of a cloud depends on the manner in which the sunlight falls upon it and the position of the observer. It will be noticed that high clouds are always white or light in color, and this is because the light by which they are seen is reflected from the undersurface by the numberless drops of moisture which go to form the cloud. Heavy rain clouds, on the other hand, are found much nearer the earth, and so the light falls on them more directly from above, giving a silver lining to the cloud, though the undersurface appears black owing to the complete reflection and absorption of the light by the upper layers. Seen from above by an observer in a balloon, the blackest rain clouds appear of the most dazzlingly brilliant white.

The Duty of Art.

Every gay, every bright word, or picture, like every pleasant air of music, is a piece of pleasure set afloat; the reader catches it, and if he be healthy, goes on his way rejoicing, and it is the business of art so to send him as often as possible.—R. L. Stevenson.

THE PASTOR SPRINTED.

He Made a Good Run in Record Time With Plenty of Reason.

One of the traditional stories of the town of Fairfield, Conn., recounts a wild dash from the pulpit made by a worthy and beloved pastor of the Episcopal flock, Dr. Labaree.

It was on a Sunday more than a hundred years ago. The service had been read, the prayers said, the hymns sung, and the parson began his sermon. As he proceeded his gestures became very energetic. He brought his right hand down with great force. Then he turned pale, cleared the pulpit stairs at a bound, dashed out of the church door and ran toward the pond a short distance away.

The congregation followed in bewildered pursuit and saw their venerable pastor with flying robe rush into the water until it came to his neck. Then, turning round, he faced his astonished audience and said:

"Dearly beloved brethren, I am not crazy, as no doubt many of you think, but yesterday at the drug store I bought a bottle of nitric acid and carelessly left it in my pocket today.

"My last gesture broke the bottle. I knew the suffering the acid would cause when it penetrated my clothing and rushed for the water to save myself pain."

He drew several pieces of glass from his pocket in witness of the tale. Then he dismissed the company and hurried home.

FROZEN WITH HEAT.

A Remarkable Process Known as the Caloric Paradox.

Freezing is usually associated with cold, but water can be frozen on a red-hot plate. This pretty experiment has rightly been called the caloric paradox.

If a drop of water is placed on a red-hot or white hot metal plate it does not suddenly flash into steam under the influence of the great heat. It does not even boil. It simply evaporates quietly and slowly as it rolls about the plate. Now, suppose that the drop on the plate is a volatile liquid like sulphurous acid. It will evaporate, and this evaporation will produce cold. Let a drop of water fall in the sulphurous acid drop and it will be frozen in spite of the heat.

M. Boutigny thus froze water on a white hot platinum capsule. Faraday carried this remarkable experiment even further. Pouring some ether and solidified carbonic acid gas on a red hot platinum capsule, he formed a spheroidal mass which evaporated very slowly. He then brought some mercury into contact with it, and this was instantly frozen. Now, mercury requires a temperature of 40 degrees below zero to solidify it, and here it was frozen on redhot platinum.

No "Deadhead" Trip.

One of the most famous of American shipping lines in the palmy days of our marine was the Cope line, which ran between Philadelphia and Liverpool, says the author of "Memoirs of Charles H. Cramp." By this line John Randolph of Roanoke determined to go to Russia when he had been appointed minister to that country by President Jackson. Entering the office of the company in Philadelphia, he said to a clerk in his usual grandiloquent manner:

"Sir, I wish to see Thomas P. Cope."

He was shown to Mr. Cope's office.

"I am John Randolph of Roanoke," he said. "I wish to take passage to Liverpool in one of your ships."

If he expected to be tendered a pass he was grievously disappointed.

"I am Thomas Cope," replied the head of the line. "If thee goes aboard the ship and selects thy stateroom and will pay $150 thee may go."

An Ants' Sewing Circle.

A party of German naturalists recently returned from Ceylon have reported the existence of a species of ant that has been observed in the act of sewing two leaves together for the purpose of forming a nest. This report confirms the observations of the English naturalist Ridley, made in 1890. They saw a row of the insects pulling the edges of leaves together, then others trimming and fitting the edges, and finally the completion of the work by still other ants which fastened the edges with a silky thread yielded by larvae of the same species the workers carried in their mandibles. It is said that the sewing ants pass the thread-giving larvae like shuttles through holes in the edges of the leaves.—Boston Post.

STATE HAPPENINGS

The wholesale grocers of Pensacola have formed a wholesale grocers' association.

—x—

News comes from Eau Gallie that the town is full to overflowing with tourists who are enjoying the fine fishing and boating.

—x—

Hon. W. N. Sheats, state superintendent of public instruction, has returned to Tallahassee, after attending a meeting of the general education board at Hampton, Va.

—x—

The board of trade of Key West has just started a whirlwind campaign for the adoption of a commission form of government for Key West. A special primary has been called, and the people will express themselves one way or another within 30 days.

—x—

The Lake Butler board of trade is still hotfoot after good roads in their district and has called a mass meeting of the citizens of the district to meet in Lake Butler on Washington's birthday, Saturday, February 22, in order to get representative expressions from the different sections of the district.

—x—

At a recent meeting of the Brooksville board of trade much enthusiasm was shown in regard to the $100,000 good roads bond issue for which an election was called by the county commissioners of that county. Brooksville has one of the finest boards of trade to be found anywhere in the entire state, always wide awake to the best interests of its citizens and the county as a whole.

—x—

St. Petersburg citizens were much elated when a telegram was received from Washington giving the news that the house committee on appropriations had reported favorably the bill containing an appropriation of $25,000 additional for a building at St. Petersburg. This amount is in addition to the $55,000 which was first appropriated, and is to give increased corridor space and more lock boxes in the office.

ANOTHER SIDE TO THE CASE

Just a Few Things Elderly Man Overlooked in His Indictment of Lazy Housewives.

Said the elderly man in the street car: "One thing that runs up the cost of living is the laziness of the average woman. She's too lazy to carry bundles home from the stores. Everything she buys, from a spool of thread up, she asks to have delivered, and the cost of the delivering adds 10 per cent to the cost of every article. Now, my wife is different from the common run. Every week day in the year she goes to the market with a big basket, does her own buying and carries the stuff home herself. That's more than your wife does, I'll bet."

Said the younger man:

"Does your wife do her own housework?"

"No, we keep a girl."

"Has your wife got a houseful of children to care for?"

"No, we only have a tomcat."

"Does your wife have to go to market in an overcrowded street car?"

"No, she has her limousine."

"My wife doesn't own a limousine, she has a houseful of children to care for, and she does her own work. Under the circumstances I don't see that my wife isn't just as much of a woman as yours, even if she doesn't get down town very often."

"You needn't get cross about it," retorted the elderly man.

"I'm not cross," said the younger man. "Only I don't like to hear women libeled."

Woodpecker's Hearing.

It is not easy to explain why woodpeckers select one tree rather than others of the same kind in the forest upon which to begin their operations, or why they attack one side of a tree and leave the other untouched. Commonly it will be found, no doubt, that worms or ants are concealed beneath the point selected and that the woodpecker is guided in his search by the sense of hearing.

Sword Imbedded in Plank.

Embedded in the heart of a plank of wood taken from a railway station at Oakley, Fifeshire, says the London Standard, there has been found a sword measuring over two feet long. The plank had been in use for at least fifteen years.

Educational Systems.

"Look here," said the father, "every page of your book is covered with finger prints." "It's an accident," replied the young student. "Well, it is some relief to hear that. There have been so many changes in handwriting that I was afraid they had decided to make a clean sweep and substitute the Bertillon system."

Showing the Goods.

A novel mode of advertising for a wife has been adopted by an inhabitant of a provincial town in England. A photograph of the gentleman is placed in the window of a shopkeeper, and underneath is the following notice: "Wanted, a female companion to the above. Apply at this office."

Only True Nobility.

There is nothing noble in being superior to some other men. The true nobility is being superior to your previous self.—Hindoo Proverb.

As It Is in Life.

No one ever has the choice of the very best. Most things, humanly speaking, are simply the choice of one good thing and one not so good.

Why Some Are Silly.

It is only because they are unused to the taste of what is excellent that the generality of people take delight in silly or insipid things.

Points for Mothers

Problems For Parents to Decide.

Few questions perplex the conscientious parent more than the one presented when a son or daughter reaches the marriageable age. In some instances, of course, there is no room for perplexity, because the choice suits all parties, but in the majority of cases the parents have much to think about. Probably the mother is more perturbed than the father, but all parents who have the welfare of their children at heart must feel some anxiety when they arrive at a marriageable age.

The first anxious feelings arise over the choice which the son or daughter may make. Then comes the selection, and the parents wonder whether the future partner is or will prove suitable in the best sense of the word.

Suppose that the child be a daughter. The future husband is subjected to the mental process often called "taking stock of him" and certain questions arise.

The parents, not blinded by love, as they are inclined to think their daughter is, are not altogether satisfied. Loving their daughter, they set up ideals, and this young man is not quite what they expected; they are not able to explain exactly why, but somehow he falls short. His income is smaller than they think it should be, or he is very fond of sports, and they fear he will neglect his wife in favor of athletic pastimes; he is, perhaps, clever, but (like so many clever persons) rather erratic, and that means coming home to dinner at any time and making his wife unhappy by a constant series of little vexations. They may object to his avocation, and they may also fancy that he is not really in love with the girl or that she herself is simply infatuated and will regret it quickly.

So they endeavor to exercise their right, as they say. The girl disputes their right, saying that she is the best judge; they cannot know as much about her sentiments as she does. It is she who has to take the consequences, good or bad; she believes that she will be happy with him and that she has the right to decide.

Who shall decide? Can the parents do more than endeavor to reason calmly with her, or have they any right to exert their influence or their autocratic power, if they possess any, to prevent the marriage? If we examine similar instances we shall find that the parents have been right at times and that they have spoiled the girl's life at others.

Surely the situation is disturbing enough to make both sides ponder gravely. "The trouble is that the girl is not old or experienced enough to be able to reflect properly," the parents would retort.

What is to be done? The best suggestion that can be made is that the young people should be asked to wait awhile before thinking of marriage or even of a fixed engagement. If that can be managed, and then let the girl see more of other men. If it is mere infatuation it will wear off.

The School Headache.

The brain is such a delicate organ, so easily hampered in development, that when headache, which is, in a sense, pain in the brain, is complained of it should receive immediate attention.

It may result from defective sight. It may be adenoids. In such a case the growths in the nose and throat prevent the child from breathing in a sufficient quantity of oxygen, and the brain is irritated by the defective quality of the blood. The adenoids should be treated or removed. Overstrain or brain fag can be counteracted by regulating lessons and providing more rest and sleep.

Headache due to digestive disorders or anaemia is treated by careful diet, exercise and plenty of fresh air. Sweets, rich dishes, fatty, greasy foods, tea and coffee should be given up, at least till the child's health equilibrium is re-established. Meals should be light and easily digested. It may be necessary to put the child on a milk diet for a time, in which case a tumblerful of milk should be given at each meal, with such a simple dish as custard, soft boiled eggs, a little fish with thin bread and butter, until the digestive system is restored to its normal working tone.

The teeth should not be overlooked in investigating the cause of ill health in the school child. Not only should they be carefully examined and attended to, but care should be taken that the child thoroughly chews every bite of food.

Exercise For Children.

Children should be encouraged to play games that exercise every muscle. They should have jumping ropes, seesaws, swings, battledore and shuttlecock, tennis and basketball. Parents and nurses should play with them. Fathers who form ball teams or football elevens among the boys of the neighborhood will have healthier children and will feel better themselves.

Amateur track meets under the parental eye, even in a back yard, are good ways of helping children to exercise. There can be jumping contests, weight lifting, trapeze and swings and punching bag.

Children can be formed into walking clubs, and even small boys and girls may be encouraged to do a certain amount of daily sprinting.

The Hotel Prince George dock presented an animated scene Tuesday morning just before 8:00 o'clock, with the steamers U. S. A. and Republic taking on passengers for Palm Beach and St. Augustine and the Sweetheart preparing to leave at the same time for Lake Okeechobee where she will be used for the passenger service in command of Capt. Ben F. McCoy. Capt. McCoy is accompanied on the trip south by his sister, Mrs. J. J. Crowe, and her friend, Miss B. Hurd, of Johnstown, Pa., who has been a guest at the Prince George for a week or more. The ladies will go as far as Citrus Center and make the return trip on board the U. S. A.

KEEP OLD CUSTOM AT ETON

Distribution of Small Coins to the Scholars Was First Begun 400 Years Ago.

Eton has celebrated "threepenny day," when a new threepeny piece is presented to each of the pupils. The custom was founded nearly 400 years ago by Roger Lupton, who was provost of the college from 1502 to 1535. Lupton arranged with the fellows for an annual distribution of money on the anniversary of his death. The provost received 2s 8d, the fellows, headmaster and Lupton's chaplain, 1s 4d, the other chaplains and usher, 8d, and the scholars and choristers, 1d each.

The scholars still get this penny in the threepenny pieces distributed to them on February 27, the other twopence being from the gift of Provost Bost, Lupton's predecessor as provost. There was a tradition at Eton which has been disproved, but which subsists to the present day, that half a sheep is what the colleger is really entitled to, and that the college evade their obligation by giving the value of half a sheep in the Middle Ages. Some time in the middle of the last century a boy named Charles Henry Bramwell, on being tendered his threepence by Bethell, one of the fellows, said:

"No, thank you, sir; I want my half sheep."

"Bethell flew into an awful rage," says the late Montagu Williams, who tells the story, "and exclaimed: 'I'll mention this matter to Dr. Hawtrey and have you flogged,' and flogged the unfortunate youth was."

Covered the Ground.

A man who was dunned by a bookseller for a book delivered some time before, returned the bill with this written on it: "I never ordered this book. If I did, you did not send it. If I got it, I paid for it. If I didn't, I won't."
